

Walter Johnson (far L), proprietor of Benjamin Brothers Hardware in Tenafly, presents a donation of wall anchors courtesy of Benjamin Brothers and The Hillman Group, to the Chore Volunteer Handyman Service of the Volunteer Center of Bergen County, headquartered in Hackensack. Chore performs minor home repairs for senior citizens and disabled persons to keep them safe in their homes. Each year Chore installs over 1,000 bathroom grab bars and interior banisters, which the anchors help to secure. Handypeople are invited to join Chore by calling (201) 489-7790
Accepting the donation are Chore volunteers Bob Nafash of River Edge, George Hartwick of Emerson, John Tercek of Dumont and Elliott Wolk of Secaucus.
